

22 subscriptions, 305 headlines unread

Last refresh: 21:08

Subscriptions

- A List Apart (20)
- Aaron Swartz (14)
- Lockergnome's RSS Resource (17)
- ongoing (20)
- Wired News (4)
- Security (65)
 - SecurityFocus News (4)
 - SecurityFocus Vulns (10)
 - pen-test @ insecure.org (25)
 - fulldisclosure @ insecure.org (25)
 - News@Cisco: Latest Security News (1)
 - Wifi Security Project
 - Security Blog (5)
 - Lessig Blog (10)
 - Stupid Security
 - OSVDB Most Recent Stable Entries (10)

• SecurityFocus News headlines	Date
... • News: FBI chides Hotmail and Yahoo! fo...	(19:45)
... • News: MS AntiSpyware bites BitDefender	(19:45)
... Infocus: Blind Buffer Overflows In ISAPI Ext...	(19:45)
... • Elsewhere: Hackers use old-fashioned ...	(19:45)
... • Elsewhere: Messenger worm out and about	(19:45)
... Infocus: Apache 2 with SSL/TLS: Step-by-...	(20 Jan 2005)
... Columnists: Unintended Consequences	(20 Jan 2005)
... Columnists: Anti-Spyware as Anti-Piracy	(18 Jan 2005)
... News: FBI retires its Carnivore	(17 Jan 2005)
... News: Hacker penetrates T-Mobile systems	(14 Jan 2005)

Infocus: Blind Buffer Overflows In ISAPI Extensions

This paper will outline the risks ISAPI Extensions pose and how they can be exploited by third parties without any binary exposure or knowledge using blind stack overflows. This method can enable remote code execution in proprietary and third party applications.